Donor-Privacy Policy

The Dave Thomas Foundation for Adoption is committed to respecting the privacy of donors. The types of donor information that it collects and maintains are as follows:

1. Contact information: name, address, telephone number and email address
2. Giving information
3. Information on events attended, publications received and special requests for program information
4. Information on individual giving preferences and communication preferences
5. Information provided by the donor in the form of comments and suggestions
6. Publicly available research to further identify affinities, capacity and propensity to support our mission

The Dave Thomas Foundation for Adoption uses donors' information to understand their interests in its mission, properly steward their support and to update them on the Foundation's plans and activities. It is shared with staff, board members, volunteers and consultants only on a "need-to-know" basis.

The Foundation also assures donors that their names and addresses will not be shared with any third party. We will protect all personal information with safeguards appropriate to the sensitivity of the information.

Our safeguards will protect personal information against loss or theft, as well as unauthorized access, disclosure, copying, use or modification, regardless of the format in which the information is held. We will make our employees and volunteers aware of the importance of maintaining the confidentiality of personal information, and we will exercise care in the disposal or destruction of personal information to prevent unauthorized parties from gaining access to the information.
